GRAND RALLY OF DEMOCRATS

THE FIRST GUN IS FIRED AMID MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

Col. J. F. Wilson, T. G. Norris and Hon. Marcus A. Smith Address Large Audience.

There was a sense of buoyancy and political enthusiasm abroad in Bisbee last evening born of the presence of several democratic war horses in the city.

Col. Wilson arrived in the city at 5:40 p. m., coming from Naco, where he addressed a meeting in the afternoon. His arrival was the signal for the booming of cannons and the reception committee was hurrying to and fro making the final arrangements for the grand rally that was to take place at the opera house. All of the democratic candidates for Cochise county were present and during the early part of the evening the scene on Main street was seldom equaled.

At 7:30 the band followed by the torch light procession came down Tombstone avenue and around to the Copper Queen hotel. There the distinguished gentlemen took an open carriage and headed the procession back to the democratic headquarters thence with only a slight pause the procession headed directly for the opera house. At 8:10 the distinguished party, followed by the local candidates, filed up the aisle and took their places on the tastily decorated stage. The old veterans of Arizona democracy formed a handsome group upon the stage surrounded by a vignette of local candidates of which the democrats of this county feel proud.

The chairman, Mr. Burton, in a happy, but pointed speech, paved the way to the introduction of Colonel Wilson.

Col. Wilson wasted no time on bouquets, but plunged into the trusts with a pitch fork. He demonstrated in black and white that a thousand different articles, manufactured in the United States and indispensable to her people, could be bought in Europe and China one-third cheaper than at home. He showed that the republican party is the father of this system and the democratic party is its hereditary enemy. The Colonel made them wince when he showed them that the trusts had advanced wages eight and one-fourth per cent, and had advanced the price of living twenty-six per cent.

The Colonel then paid his respects to the Prescott party, who accused him in public print of beating workmen out of their wages. Col. Wilson unqualifiedly denounced it as false, and offered to give $100 a line for any letter over his signature acknowledging any indebtedness to the individual who published the slander. The Col. satisfied every one present that the whole thing was a malicious campaign falsehood.

Tom Norris made a felicitous talk, tossing us some full bloom bouquets on our great resources. He then proceeded from the standpoint of one who knows to fully vindicate Colonel Wilson in the matter of the damaging statements made against him.

Mr. Norris then reviewed the tariff question, along the lines followed by Col. Wilson. He concluded by a well deserved scathing of trusts illustrating his ideas in clear and simple language, such as a child might understand. Mr. Norris' mention of W. R. Hearst drew out great and spontaneous applause. His tribute to Marcus Smith was received with equal enthusiasm.

Next came "Our Mahk" and we were glad we were close to the ground when the applause was at its height.

Next came "Our Mark" and we were by cracking chestnuts but jumped right into his Carlsbad shoes. (He bought those shoes cheaper in Europe than he could have bought them in the United States, where they were made.) and with finished eloquence and inimitable logic, he punctured the republican proposition that protection upheld wages.

He then demonstrated that democracy in congress was the only friend of statehood. He made no assertion that he could not support by reference to the congressional records. He indulged in no flights of fancy, or non elusive humor. His whole manner was serious and his speech a conscientious appeal to every true American to stand by the party which had ever stood by the people.

His speech was simply what might have been expected of Marcus A. Smith, which is the highest tribute that could be paid.

The meeting was orderly and enthusiastic throughout and from its temper and conduct must be gathered the already foregone conclusion that Col. Wilson and the entire democratic ticket will have a walk over in Bisbee on the 4th day of next November.

RESUMPTION OF COAL MINING

RAPID PROGRESS BEING MADE ALONG THIS LINE.

Thousands of Men of Every Class Made Applications for Work Yesterday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa. Oct. 22.—Rapid progress is being made by all the coal companies in the anthracite region toward a general resumption of coal mining.

The suspension officially ends at seven o'clock tomorrow morning, but the quantity of coal mined this week will be great. It is believed that not more than twenty-five per cent of the normal production will be reached until some time next week. A number of mines will not be in a condition to work for several months, and there are others that will not be ready for for two or three weeks. Thousands of men of every class made application for work today. Under the decision of the convention those directly employed in cutting and handling coal cannot return to work until tomorrow, but workmen who are needed to make repairs and otherwise place workings in condition for operation, were reinstated today wherever needed. There were many disappointed, however, principally among engineers and pumpmen. It is the opinion of the workers, however, that the superintendents will finally re-employ all of them. The union men say that the companies will get rid of all incompetents, hired during the strike. Celebrations in honor of the ending of the strike were held in many towns in the anthracite region today. President Mitchell is now engaged in preparing the miners side of the case for presentation to the arbitration commission.

THE WILSON EXAMINATION

ONLY PARTLY DISPOSED OF YESTERDAY—EVIDENCE SO FAR AS PRODUCED.

Attorney Miller for the Territory and Attorney Hall for the Defendant.

Joseph McCall first witness, a boy apparently twenty years of age, testified in substance as follows:

"I live fifteen miles from Bisbee in the valley; have known defendant about a year; we both haul wood." Just here the witness got tangled and the court and counsel Miller, who acted for the territory, had to straighten him out. Witness—"I knew Louis Ward; saw him about a month ago, this side of Douglas; I know he is dead. I saw him in the valley at my place dead. Do not know how he came to his death; do not know what caused it. Never talked to the defendant about it; know nothing of the relations between Ward and Wilson. All I know is hearsay; saw no indications on his person that would explain the cause of his death. Had seen Ward about a month before that."

Excused by the territory for the present.

By the Court.

"Did you hear any altercation between Ward and Wilson?"

"No, only my sister."—interrupted—"Did you ever state that you expected that this thing would come up?"

"All I know about it is my sister said she expected it."

Defendants Attorney.

"Have you ever heard anyone threaten to do Wilson up since he was arrested?"

"No sir."

Excused.

Logan Vanderver.

"I am a common laborer reside in the valley over near Douglas. Have known Henry Wilson about a year. He hauls wood, and lives about five miles from me. I knew Ward about a year; he was, I think, around Naco and Cananea most of the time. Have seen him and Wilson together and know they were acquainted. Saw them together the day before Ward was killed; did not see Ward after he was dead. Saw them the day before about twenty-five miles out in the Chiricahua mountains; Hiram Reed was there. We met in the road; Wilson and Ward were coming toward Bisbee. I was with them for a couple of hours. I neither saw nor heard anything that attracted my attention particularly; have talked to Wilson since; nothing was said about the killing; know nothing about any threats having been made."

Court—"Did you know of any threats or quarrels between them?"

"No, have no knowledge that would throw any light upon the matter, except from hearsay. The second day after I was talking to them I heard that Ward was killed. He was supposed to have been killed in the night of the same day on which I met them, and said to have been killed in Cat Claw draw, in which direction they were traveling when I last saw them."

At this stage of the examination, it appearing to the court that three material witnesses for the territory were absent the court continued the case to 2 p. m., next Friday afternoon.

SMALLPOX AMONG INDIANS

FEARFUL STATE OF AFFAIRS EXISTS AS OF RESULT OF EPIDEMIC.

Driven Across Canadian Border By Mounted Police.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 22.—Special to the Miner from Hvre, Mont., says a fearful state of affairs exists as a result of an epidemic of smallpox among the renegade Cree Indians, who were driven across the Canadian border, it is alleged, by the Canadian mounted police.

The Crees have a virulent form of the disease and when they were driven across the line wandered aimlessly about, half burying their dead whose graves can be seen by the roadside. On the Blackfoot reservation they spread infection and it is reported an epidemic is now raging there. Rigid quarantine is being maintained by authorities near Havre. The situation has become so alarming Dr. Longway, of the state board of health, has taken up the matter and an appeal may be sent to Washington.

RAILROAD MEN MAKE DEMANDS

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EMPLOYEES WILL JOIN WITH EASTERN UNIONS.

Ask For Twenty Per Cent Increase in Wages—If Demands are Refused a General Strike Will Follow.

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 22.—The engineers, firemen and boilermakers of the Southern Pacific company, have joined with the employees of twenty eastern railroads in making a demand for an increase in wages of about twenty per cent. According to statements made by heads of several of the unions interested, the Southern Pacific and others must pass upon the demands before November 1. Should the demand be refused, it is claimed there will be a general strike involving conductors, brakemen, carmen, freight handlers and other employees who have formed unions. It is said the demands are the result of a secret meeting of railroad men held in Kansas City two years ago.

The companies will be given thirty days in which to answer the demands.

The demands of the boilermakers, engineers and firemen were submitted to the Southern Pacific two weeks ago. It is generally conceded the demands will be passed upon by the local managers of the Southern Pacific, but will be forwarded to President Harrington and the board of directors in New York. Engineers ask a uniform wage of five dollars per day for handling engines, of 95 tons, and an increase of fifteen per cent for handling engines over that weight.
